Message:

"The Class of '67" — this designation will long remain with you, not only as a group but as individuals. For twelve years you have prepared for this day. In your preparation the faculty has been able to provide you only with a "bag of tools." How you use these tools will determine the level of success you are able to achieve.

Remember always that continued progress, law and order, faith in God and in others, peace on earth, and all those eternal verities that bring lasting happiness, begin with you. As you go, so goes your community, you nation, and your world.

May each of you find the success you are seeking.

The 1967 Accolade is the sixteenth such publication in the history of Lynwood High School. It portrays the school year 1966-67 in pictures and text and will recall memories for all students, particularly those of the graduating class.

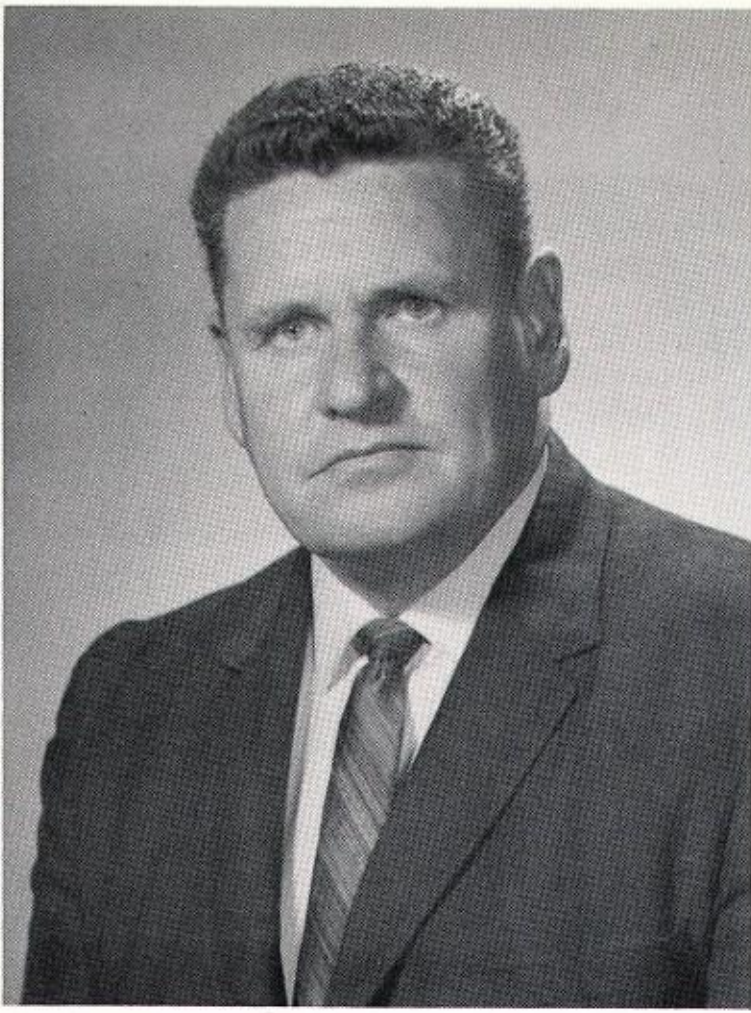

This yearbook represents a great deal of effort on the part of the Accolade Staff. My thanks, and I am sure the thanks of the student body go to this dedicated group who spent many hours after school to make the 1967 Accolade possible.

CLASS OF 1967

On June 15, we, the class of 1967, will say "Sayonara" to our beloved Castle. We will be leaving our friends, faculty and all the momentous activities of these past four years. We realize, however, that we will take with us the knowledge and experience acquired from the memorable school days at Lynwood High School.

Taking the big step from junior to senior high school, we gained much guidance from our first class president, Greg Thompson. We saw as Freshmen a new world of learning and social activities. Contributing to tradition of the Castle, we sponsored the Saint Patrick's Day Dance, "Leprechaun Leap."

As expectant Sophomores, we entered another year at Lynwood under the leadership of Greg Lee. For the new Freshmen, we sponsored a Freshman Welcome Dance. We greatly boosted the class treasury by selling quarter pound bars of chocolate. This money gave us a head-start on establishing an adequate treasury for next year's Prom. With profits in mind again, we sold booster ribbons during the football season. Our year was saddened when the friendly, warm figure of Mrs. Kathryn Doll disappeared from the campus. She was a favorite Sophomore English teacher who helped the class and its activities. Climaxing our first two years at Lynwood High School, we ordered our class rings.

President Rod Childress led us through an active year as Juniors. First of all, we anxiously received our rings. To strengthen our funds, we continued selling booster ribbons. Displaying an interest in the campus, we conducted a clean-up campaign. To climax our third year, we sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom, "A Knight's Enchantment," held at the International Hotel at the Los Angeles Airport.

Again Rod Childress presided over the class activities, this time to be the last. As seniors we entered the school year to enjoy the privileges reserved for "Seniors Only." We were honored to welcome our foreign exchange student from Ceylon, Shanti Wijearagah. Our last Homecoming season was set off by the crowning of the 1966-1967 queen, radiant Patty Vest. We then continued the traditional scene by sponsoring the Christmas Dance, "Mistletoe Magic." Later, the All-School Play, "Pillow Talk," was presented to the students, faculty, and parents. We were also fortunate to enjoy a new, special casual day on campus — "May Daze." Next, the Prom took its place as a memorable, elegant occasion. Finally, we saw the beginning of a wonderful week starting with the fun of the Senior Picnic at Irvine Park, continuing through the serenity of Baccalaureate and Commencement, and ending with the excitement of the All-Night Party. This week was highlighted by the surprise and thrill of receiving the long-awaited "Accolade."

Now as we take a last glimpse of Lynwood High School as students, we feel much gratitude and respect for the helpful advice we have received from our dedicated counselors, Mrs. Agnes Jones and Mr. Clifton Nordgaard. We also thank the entire faculty and administration for their patience in teaching us. At the end of our Senior year, we, the Class of 1967, say "Sayonara" to all the friends and faculty of four never-to-be-forgotten years.

This was truly a night of enchantment for the Queen and her court. They will rein over our Castle during '66-'67. With a lot of tears and smiles they met their subjects for a wonderful Homecoming Ball. The glamor and lights of our ball showed the true spirit of Lynwood.

SALUTE TO CHRISTMAS

The annual Christmas Dance, sponsored by the Senior Class, was entitled "Mistletoe Magic." It was held on Friday, December 16 at Bateman Hall with the attire of semi-Formal. This dance held many memories; the mistletoe, the white Christmas tree, Santa Claus, the band. Many students came to enjoy this dance and had a good time.

Moments to Remember

WILL WE EVER FORGET:

The "ripped" daisy.
The flooded locker room after the Lynwood Relays.
The night John Law walked in on Vaunetta and Iron Mike at Chico's.
The double chaperone at Redlands.
The synthetic mashed potatoes 'n' plastic gravy at the Redlands banquet.
Mr. Wells the basketball player.
Al Pavich's Famous sardine and burrito dinner.
Terry Roesse finding out she made cheerleader.
The big romance between The Midnight Skulker and "litter Snowflake."
The "clean in" at Lynwood High.
The "knees" in Mr. Higgins' first period class.
The lovely Castlette initiates during initiation.
May Daze at Lynwood Hgh.
The all school play "Pillow Talk."
The musical "Trial by Jury."
The peanutbutter sandwich on Mr. Alexander's board.
The student body officers running unopposed.
Getting the yearbook out.
Miss Purvin's speech classes.
The wonderful rainy day and the dry lunch area.
The Senior Square being painted blue.
The Senior government test.
How long the seniors had to wait for their Senior pictures.
The Letterman Initiation.
The Letterman vs Faculty Basketball Game.
The Girls in Black. Wow!
Our Terrific Baseball Team.

THAT WILL BE THE DAY WHEN:

When the yearbook is done on the first due date.
There's water in the Senior Fountain.
The machines at the lunch area give the right change.
Smoke clears in the rest rooms.
There is another class of '67.
There are no more finals.
We get a cafeteria.
A school tax passes.

Someone doesn't cry at Homecoming.

REMEMBER THOSE EMBARRASSING MOMENTS:

The lovely girls on Castlette's initiation day.
When Carol Burns started cheering "Hi, Burbank, Hi!" at the Paramount game.
When the students asked Miss Purvin what she was doing in the teacher's chair.

THE SENIORS WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER:

Homecoming,
The Talent Assembly,
Baccalaureate,
Commencement and,
The All Night Party.

WILL THE TEACHER EVER LIVE DOWN:

The Donkey Basketball Game.
Mrs. West's Sea Gull
Mr. Harr's donkey forgetting its manners.
Mr. Skolnick's class discussions.
The article about embarrassing moments of teachers.
Mr. Beno's "Lost Safari" field trip.
The bird that kept coming back to Mr. Benson's room.
Mrs. Rydeen and MacBeth.

"We do."

"Come to me my love"

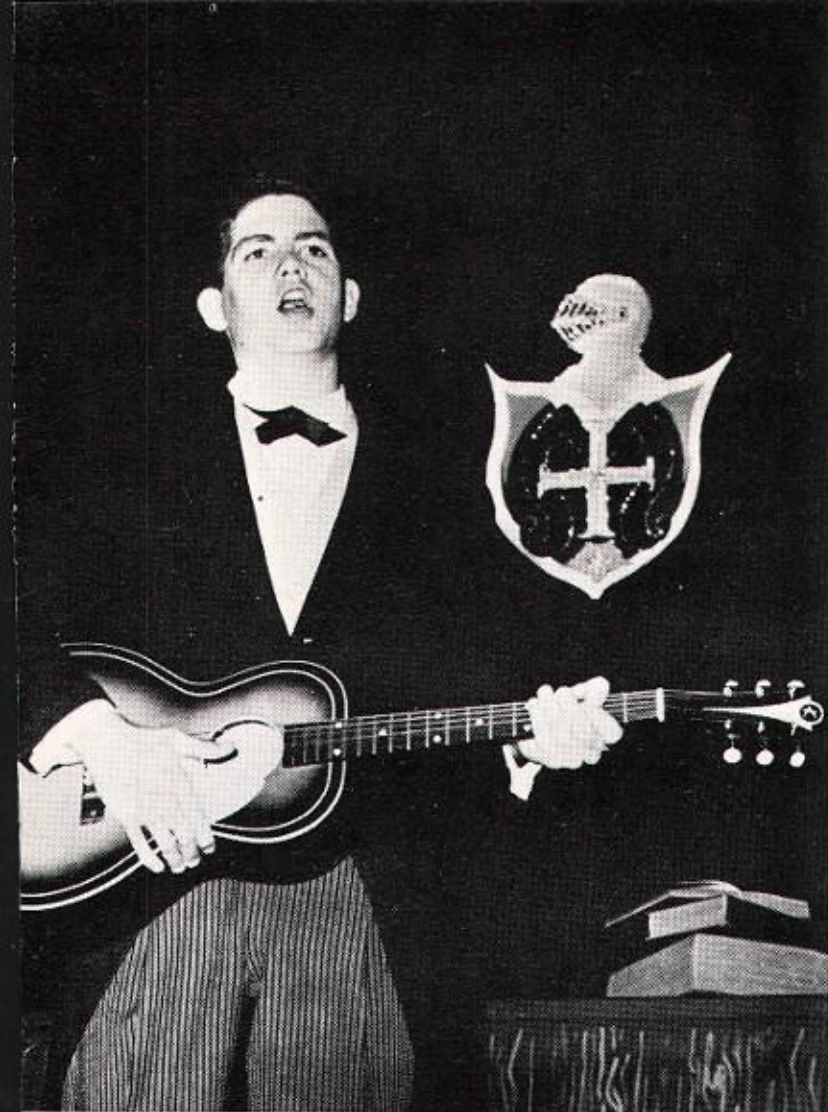

"Mm- mm- m----"

"He jilted me — that rat —"

"She loves me yeah yeah—"

"Now listen to me your Honor"

"—And a good judge too—"

"Oh, how could he do that to me—(sob)"

In Appreciation

The Co-Editors consider it an honor and a privilege to have been selected in compiling the Accolade for 1967. The production of this yearbook has required many hours of hard work and the help of a competent staff. For their help in making this Accolade possible we would like to thank . . .

Alfred and Fabris Studio for their fine photography.

Mr. Cannicott, our publisher, who worked with us until the book was finally ready and printed.
